What is TOURISMED?

TOURISMED

Is a project co-funded by the Interreg-Med program, which aims to test a fishing tourism business model in the coastal territories of Italy, Cyprus, Greece, Albania, France and Spain, as a way to promote fishing tourism as a sustainable coastal and maritime tourism practice in the MED area, while fostering the preservation of the marine ecosystem and traditional fishing culture.

In order to promote fishing tourism as a sustainable tourism practice, Durrës Municipality through the implementation of the TOURISMED Project aims to promote a different and unique touristic experience that could provide additional income for the fishermen as well as a diversification of offer for instance for the tourist operators, all with a sustainable impact on fishing resources.
